5. Comments:

5.1) Please identify what you perceive to be the real strengths and weaknesses of this teaching assistant and course.

- It was difficult to understand the TA, as the concepts became harder I just felt more overewhelmed and confued. The TA would ask if anyone wanted to participate or ask questions and there would be rarely anyone who would. I just think generally the discussion class was a waste of time as not all of us payed attention or really understood. The material was based on questions of the book but when being solved you couldn't really understand the TA's handwritting or way of speaking in no disrepectful way.
- Overall pretty good at explaining material but was sometimes confusing to get her point across since she sometimes goes on confusing tangents.
- She basically runs her sections like a lecture and talks the ENTIRE time in a boring and disengaging way and often makes mistakes regarding the material.
- Strengths: explaining course material thoroughly, incorporating active learning between students and material
- The T.A was very helpful during the sections. However the sections were a bit rushed and unclear.
- The teaching assistant was sweet and I know that she really tried to lead discussion, but it was very hard to understand the content she was teaching. Discussions were very confusing.
- Very good TA. Always had very organized and helpful sections that were planned and thought out. Very insightful problems, and her walkthrough and support were always very good and make complicated topics easier to understand. She was consistent all year, and always led a simple and effective discussion section. Welcomed student voices and encouraged us to attend office hours or reach out for help. Amazing TA, 10/10.
